SMITH TO AIR OIL SCANDALS

COUNTIES SEEK $6,700,000 GAS TAX FOR ROADS

Fund Tied Up by Oil Company Suits.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

A combined effort has been launched by the counties of the state to force the distribution of the $6,700,000 which the state collected under the unconstitutional gas tax last winter. Fifty-one of the counties have taken official action.

The proposed method to compel the oil companies to release their hold on the fund, which they have tied up by litigation, is outlined in the following paragraph of a resolution which is being adopted by the counties:

"Be it further resolved that the county board be instructed to use its influence in the purchase of road oil, gasoline and lubricating oils, and that, all things being equal, they purchase such materials and supplies from companies which have not filed suits or entered into litigation to tie up this fund, which has been appropriated for the highways of the counties."

Action Spreads Over State.

Passage of the resolution has been quickly promoted all over the state. Thus behind the movement have entered twenty boards that an intimation has been made by one of the large oil companies now a party to suits of the injunction suits that it will withdraw from the proceedings immediately if it can be assured that the counties will throw all their business away and also add in industry the motorists of the counties to the suit.

A day also announced yesterday that the Chicago Motor club would take a hand in the attempt to free the fund as it may be proportionately distributed to the various counties in which it originated and be applied to road construction.

"Although we can see some of the oil companies are in a difficult position because they feel bound to get their suits for their dealers or charge companies, nevertheless we realize that if the suits of the companies are successful the money collected from the oil companies under the illegal gas tax will never be returned to those who actually paid it," said Charles M. Ryan, president of the motor club.

Only Few Can Collect.

"Only 15 per cent of the gas tax paid by individual motorists can never be returned to those who paid it. Perhaps the five per cent who can prove claims to get their refund. But 10 per cent, representing $6,000,000 of the money, want this money spent in a way that will do them some good. They favor the return of the money to the counties."

"As matters stand, if the courts decide to refund the tax paid by the oil companies to the oil companies, it will be the beneficiaries, and it is probable that they would pass it along to their dealers. In that case the dealers would get the cash and it would stop there."

"The only way the great body of motorists of the state can get back anything for the money they paid as tax is to secure a return of the money to the counties for road building purposes."

What the Resolution Says.

Portions of the resolution, which is being adopted by the county boards in uniform text, are taken in the following from the document passed by the De Kalb county board on Sept. 12:

"A late special session of the legislature appropriated to the counties the gas tax collected last fall and ordered to be used on the secondary road systems of the counties of the state, and the receipt of this money from the state treasury will aid materially to improve these roads."

"Certain oil companies tied up the fund by enjoining the public officials from turning over to the several counties the money, retaining the work of improving these roads."

"The tax paid to the state treasury does not come from the treasury of the oil companies, but from the consumers of gasoline. In case the oil companies suits should be successful, it would be impossible for the oil companies to repay the consumer any portion of the funds because the great deal of it was collected from individual buyers at filling stations."

"The board of supervisors continues the action of the oil companies in tying these suits, which prevent the paying of the tax money to the counties."

The resolution is to be introduced to the Cook county board this week, and announced, and in all likelihood passed unanimously. Cook county has a liability of nearly $3,000,000 in the gas tax collected tax fund.

G. O. P. CALLS IN ITS PUBLICITY ON WILLEBRANDT

Mistake, Is the Only Explanation Given.

The Republican national committee, through its western headquarters, last night recalled five pages of publicity material which the representatives of the committee had sent to Chicago newspapers and to representatives of newspapers in other cities.

The five pages contained part of an address delivered last evening by Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, before the northern Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Lorain, O. It was an appeal to the ministers in the gathering to oppose Gov. Alfred E. Smith for the presidency on the prohibition issue, but it also was a disclaimer that the speaker was moved in this address or in her previous conduct by the religious issue.

There was no explanation from Republican western headquarters of the cause for retrieving the mimeographed copy of the Willebrandt speech except that a mistake had been made. A Western Union employee collected it.

Smith's Charge Recalled.

On Thursday night, speaking at Oklahoma City, Gov. Smith charged that his membership in the Roman Catholic church had been raised as an issue against him. In the course of that attack he asserted that there was reason for believing that Republicans high in the councils of the party had countenanced a large part of this form of campaign and even might have promoted it.

"Giving them the benefit of all reasonable doubt," he continued, "they at least remain silent on the exhibition that Mrs. Willebrandt made of herself before the Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church when she said:

"There are 2,000 pastors here. You have in your church more than 800,000 members of the Methodist church in Ohio alone. That is enough to swing the election. The 600,000 have friends in other states; write to them."

Hints G. O. P. Chiefs Approve.

"Mrs. Willebrandt holds a place of prominence in the Republican administration. She is an assistant attorney general of the United States. By silence after such a speech, the only inference one can draw is that the administration approves such political tactics."

On Friday, following publication of the Smith address, Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, issued a formal statement denying that the committee had engaged in religious propaganda. This denial at the time was construed as a less direct reference to Mrs. Willebrandt's activity than to a newspaper account, quoted by Gov. Smith, of a woman in Washington being sent from the Republican national committee headquarters to obtain "nonpolitical material" against Smith from the office of an anti-Catholic publication.

Dr. Work's Statement.

Dr. Work's statement also is believed to have had some bearing on the action of the Republican western headquarters in recalling the Willebrandt speech yesterday. Dr. Work said:

"Religious propaganda from the Republican national committee is impossible. The committee and its officers were selected without thought of religious connection and comprise Baptists, Catholics, Jews, Presbyterians, and a dozen other faiths. No reasonable person will believe that these persons are carrying on propaganda against any faith."

In one corner of the mimeographed manuscript of Mrs. Willebrandt's speech of last night appeared: "Rep. Nat. Com., Chicago, Ill."

CALLS RUM REAL ISSUE

Lorain, O., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, in an address before a conference of Methodist Episcopal ministers here tonight charged that Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee, "is hiding behind his own church because he is afraid to come out and face the record that he has made as a champion of the liquor traffic."

She made this statement in denying

ANOTHER WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

3 HURT IN CRASH OF PLANE NEAR MUNICIPAL FIELD

Three men were seriously injured early last evening when the airplane in which they were riding went out of control at a height estimated at 1,500 feet and plunged to the ground at 77th street and La Crosse avenue, in Stickney township. They are: Florian Savage, 21, of Deerfield, Ill.; Nelson McMahon, 22, of Cambridge City, Ind.; Russell Hawkins, 36, of 7914 South Shore drive.

The trio had taken off a few minutes earlier from the municipal airport. The plane was owned by the Prairie Air Service corporation, of which they were all employees. Witnesses to the crash reported that Savage had been stunting in the air and that something apparently went wrong with the mechanism as he started a loop.

Passing motorists ran to the plane, dragged the men from it, and took them to hospitals. Savage suffered a broken nose and a fractured skull. McMahon's right leg, left arm, and jaw were fractured, and Hawkins had a fractured skull and two broken ankles.

California and Massachusetts and from Oregon and Florida. These are the four ends of the blanket.

Asked what he thought of the results of his first week of campaigning for the presidency he called it "A good week's work," adding:

"Of course, I was very agreeably surprised at the reception I have been getting since I left. I have been in parts of the country in the last few days I have not visited in years. I never was in Oklahoma before."

"I was in Denver twenty years ago. Naturally, the enthusiasm of the crowd and the size of the crowds have been very pleasing and very hopeful. I am entirely satisfied with the week's work."

The governor acknowledged that he was deeply touched by the tremendous ovation—minutes of frantic cheering and flag waving by 10,000 men and women—which he received when he rode into the auditorium in his automobile direct to the edge of the speaker's platform.

That demonstration he had tried to still, because he did not wish to lose any of his radio time.

Eating Into Radio Time.

Today he remarked: "Yes, they were eating into radio time," adding then with a wholly reconciled smile: "But, perhaps, it was not such a bad thing to have that demonstration go over the radio."

At the Roman Catholic cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Denver, the nominee this morning heard the venerable and beloved Father Hugh L. McMenamin preach a sermon on tolerance. The text was not from the scriptures but from a letter Thomas Jefferson wrote to a parent who had asked the great man for counsel for his son. "Tell the boy," wrote Mr. Jefferson, "to love his God, to love his neighbor as himself, and to love his country better than himself."

"The Catholic church," the preacher said, "has in all ages taught what Jefferson expounded in his counsel to that boy. Bigotry, hatred, intolerance—these are the passions which most venomously poison the souls of men and shame them before their maker."

2,000 Cheer Outside Church.

Two thousand people waited in the street in front of the cathedral while the governor was at worship and cheered him roundly when he came forth.

At Cheyenne the greetings which the citizens and the children of the famous capital of the cattle country gave the nominee was a Smith demonstration under Republican leadership.

In the automobile which conveyed Smith to the Plains hotel for half an hour of handshaking rode the Republican governor of Wyoming and the Republican mayor of Cheyenne.

From a window of the hotel the venerable Republican United States Senator Francis Warren, called in these parts "the greatest shepherd since Abraham," looked benevolently down on the scene.

Gov. Frank C. Emerson of Wyoming is, like his close friend, Herbert Hoover, an eminent mining engineer, and the prophecy in this section of the far west is that if Hoover is elected, Emerson will be secretary of the interior. Emerson and Smith had a hearty nonpartisan visit.

G. O. P. Mayor's Family for Al.

Mayor Riner of Cheyenne, another Republican who escorted Smith, was mayor of Cheyenne 40 years ago when the town was wild and woolly. Again, after being long out of office, he is mayor, and the city he governs has become sedate and trim—like Riner. The only upsetting incident of his political life is that all his family have come out for Al Smith.

After his first campaign tour, which

Senator Blaine Declares He Won't Support Hoover

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—United States Senator John J. Blaine of Wisconsin, in a statement issued at his home in Boscobel, Wis., and made public by the Democratic national committee, announced today that he will not vote for Herbert Hoover for President.

Senator Blaine, although listed in the Congressional directory as a Republican, has given previous evidence of his leanings toward Gov. Al Smith in the present campaign. In a speech made in Burlington, Wis., on Aug. 28, Senator Blaine declared he had no doubt that "my friends and supporters are going to vote for Gov. Smith."

Owes No Allegiance.

"No Republican owes any political allegiance to Mr. Hoover as presidential nominee," his statement today said. "In the congressional campaign of 1918 he urged the election of a Democratic congress. He said: 'I am for President Wilson's leadership, not only in the conduct of the war, but also in the negotiations of peace, and afterwards in America's burden in the rehabilitation of the world.'"

"Mr. Hoover in 1920 sought and was willing to accept the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. After he was convinced he could not receive the Democratic nomination, he declared, 'I must vote for the party that stands for the league of nations.'"

Wanted Democratic Nomination.

"Eight years ago, when he assumed President Wilson's policies were popular, he was willing to capitalize those policies if the Democratic party would nominate him."

"Mr. Hoover was a part of President Wilson's administration; he will end in Rochester, N. Y., on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 2, Gov. Smith will rest in Albany until the following Monday. Then he will go campaigning in the more or less solid south. He will not acknowledge that the days in Albany will be needed for rest, but says, "We'll have to give the laundress time to get caught up and start us again."

BLAST DAMAGES BUILDING; TWO CHILDREN PERILED

An explosion of gas or dynamite wrecked the front and lower interior of a three-story brick structure at 3553 West North avenue last night. Ruth Cooper, 13 years old, and her brother, Walter, 8, alone in a third floor flat when the blast occurred, groped their way to the first floor through fire and smoke and were helped to the street by Edward Stack, 3548 Pierce avenue, a neighbor. The blast ripped out the front of a delicatessen store on the first floor owned by Edward Goldworth. The Austin police were seeking him for questioning as to the cause of the explosion.

Morrow Escapes Mexican Bandit Raid on Village

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23.—(P)—United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow today escaped by one hour a bandit raid on a village near Cuernavaca while returning to Mexico City. He arrived in the town to find it in great excitement, but with the bandits gone.

ASKS PERMIT FOR RADIO MESSAGE SERVICE IN U. S.

Company Cites Fallibility of the Telegraph.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Applications for permits authorizing the Universal Wireless Communication company, Ltd., to operate a nation-wide short wave radio message service will be considered by the federal radio commission in a public hearing next Tuesday.

Point to point message service between 125 "key" stations throughout the country—13 of the stations would be located in Chicago—are planned by the company, whose representative before the federal commission, Dr. John Nathanson, declared the new system is designed to supplement existing telegraph service.

The necessity of an organized, efficient radio service in emergencies, demonstrated during the recent hurricane which struck the West Indies and the Florida east coast, will be urged upon the commission. Dr. Nathanson asserted today that the scores of applications made by private business interests for short wave assignments indicate that existing wire services are unable to handle the

His company, the doctor continued, will oppose the assignments to private interests on the ground that "the limited number of short wave hands should be reserved for the use of the whole industry and business of the country upon equal terms and should be assigned to agencies which will develop them intensively for the benefit of the entire public."

POLICE SEIZE 500 IN RAIDS, SOLVE CRIMES

Cleanup Hits Vice and Gambling Resorts.

In a series of raids early yesterday morning on bootlegging establishments, gambling houses and houses of prostitution, the police made a total of 500 arrests and obtained evidence which, they assert, will solve a number of recent crimes.

Most important of those seized, in the opinion of Deputy Commissioner John Steeg, is Charles Stanley, 26 years old, of 2847 West Jackson boulevard. He and six others were taken into custody at 1911 West Grand avenue.

Admits 35 Robberies.
Stanley admitted, it was said, that he and three other men had committed at least thirty-five robberies. He declared that one of his companions, known as "Big Leo," shot and wounded Policemen Allen Carroll and John Fogarty in the Turkish Village at 604 North Clark street on Thursday, adding that Leo and Walter Ingram, 3055 Kenmore avenue, had shot Maurice Younglove, watchman, in a west side saloon a few weeks earlier.

He named another accomplice, known to him as Alex the Greek, as having participated in a robbery at the Davis hotel. Ingram's home was raided and a large quantity of ammunition seized. Policemen were stationed at 18 North Bishop street, a hangout of the Greek, in the hope of arresting him.

Solved in Robbery Attempt.
Stanley was arrested several weeks ago in front of the Tribune Tower and admitted then that he was planning to rob the paymaster. He was released on bonds. Late last night he added to his confessions the shooting of a policeman at Lafayette, Ind., two years ago.

Policemen Commissioner Russell had ordered the series of raids as a general cleanup on vice resorts. One of the places hit was 1515 Taylor street, where 200 men were arrested. John Bolton is said to be owner of the place, an alleged gambling resort.

Name Places Raided.
The Maxwell street police arrested twenty-four persons at the following addresses: 235 South Halsted street, 107 West Madison street, 227 South Bond street, 10 North Green street, 1 A.M. street, 8 South Sangamon street, and 13 South Sangamon street. Other places where raids were made included 417 South Sacramento avenue, 201 South La Salle street, 3012 Indiana avenue, 1054 West 13th street, 1054 Washington avenue, 723 Blue Island avenue, 876 North Wells street, 70 North Clark street, 847 Orleans street, 655 West Division street, 833 Oak street, 2327 North Clark street, 232 Southport avenue, 2822 North Chest street, 3027 Seminary avenue, and 131 Lill avenue.

BOAT DEAD IN STREET.
John Hafford, 68 years old, head of a small manufacturing company in Madison, was found dead in front of 1201 North Dearborn street as he was walking on the street last night. He was a guest at the Northern hotel.

G. O. P. Withdraws Willebrandt Speech

FROM THE G. O. P. CHIEF, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE ADDRESS IN PART OF THE LATE SENATOR WILLEBRANDT, ASSISTANT UNITED STATES ATTORNEY - GENERAL, DELIVERED AT THE CHURCH OF THE REDEMPTION AT 10:45 P. M. SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1928, AND IS FOR RELEASE TO JOURNALISTS OF MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24.

"For fifty years past the Methodist and other churches have opened your pulpits to the discussion of the prohibition question to show up its enemies and advance its friends. You have impartially supported Democrat and Republican for legislative halls or executive or judicial offices. You have never asked a man's church or his party if his acts and utterances were against liquor. You have supported Jones and Cuthbert and men of or church if they were aggressive against the saloon. All these years the extermination of the liquor traffic has been for you solely a moral issue—never political. Fundamentally, it is not political now and never can be. It is moral and economic."

"That—prohibition is now in politics. Tomorrow's candidate for the Presidency of the United States; in defiance of the large dry sentiment of his own party, has dragged it into politics."

Facsimile of the advance copy of Mabel Willebrandt's plea to Ohio Methodists given out from the western headquarters of the Republican national committee and later withdrawn by those in charge. The endorsement "From Rep. Nat. Com., Chicago, Ill." inclosed within the circle indicates its authorization by the headquarters.

a declaration in the candidate's Oklahoma City speech, in which she claimed he had said she was opposing him because of his religion.

Calls It Moral Issue.
"Prohibition is a moral issue which the churches have long espoused," Mrs. Willebrandt continued. "It was he who injected this moral issue into the campaign. It was, therefore, his act that drew the churches into this campaign."

Friends of prohibition, Mrs. Willebrandt said, were almost in equal numbers in each political party. "Making prohibition, therefore," she declared, "a party issue was an adroit political trick to split the dry forces along sectional, geographical and party lines. But you didn't split. You accepted his challenge. You are standing together to fight the candidate who declared war on you."

Mrs. Willebrandt said thirty-one national organizations, including Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, Unitarians, Congregationalists, Quakers and "two influential groups of Catholics" have joined to advance prohibition. She cited a resolution adopted at a meeting of these organizations in which Gov. Smith's record was condemned and told of a similar resolution adopted by the Methodists.

"Did the 'happy warrior' engaged in calling his anti-prohibition braves about him for a war dance over the 18th amendment, actually think you pastors who always have defended

G. O. P. ANSWERS SMITH'S WATER POWER CHARGE

Says Candidate Displays Ignorance on Topic.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Chairman Hubert Work of the Republican national committee, in answering the latest of the charges of Gov. Smith today—that of Herbert Hoover's sympathy with the water power trust—contested himself with saying that the Democratic candidate does not know what he is talking about and is displaying vast ignorance throughout his western trip.

Gov. Smith has kept the Republican high management busy in knocking down the political figures set up in the Hoover pathway. It is something like the side show where the customers knock down babies with a baseball and some one pulls a string and there is a new row of babies to be hit.

There was profound silence from the Hoover home as to the statement of Senator Bruce of Maryland that Charles Darrow had said he had had a few drinks with Mr. Hoover at one time. At Republican headquarters, Mr. Darrow's denial of this was deemed a sufficient answer.

Answers Water Power Charge.
But not the new effort to hurt Mr. Hoover on the water power question. Here is what Mr. Work had to say: "Gov. Smith's speech in Denver on power is again a public exhibit of his facility to distort, misrepresent, and reverse the meaning of public statements made by Mr. Hoover through deleting and lifting and isolating phrases from the context," said Chairman Work.

"Beyond this, however, he advertises his ignorance of Mr. Hoover's well known public stand on Boulder canon power development. "He tried last night to show that improper relations existed between Mr. Hoover and the power companies on the ground that they hired two employees away from the department of commerce. Many men holding important positions in government and private business have had training under Mr. Hoover in the past twenty-five years."

"But more pertinent at this time, is Gov. Smith's evident lack of information on the whole problem of the right to states of the west in use of water and power. "Unfamiliar Ground. "However, his lack of familiarity with this subject shows a parallel with his farm declarations where he says he is for the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill and is reported by the papers to have admitted that he is not familiar with its provisions. "The governor when in the west is far from his accustomed environment, in an unfamiliar country, discussing public questions with which he is less familiar than many of those hearing him."

The Republicans are getting a bit weary of being on the defensive and are attacking tomorrow in Oklahoma, which Gov. Smith has just left in a seething condition, by sending Senator William E. Borah in there to make a speech which will be broadcast all over the country. Great interest has been shown in Senator Borah's campaign speeches and the national committee has decided to put them all on the radio in the future. He held his audience for more than an hour in Detroit. His speech tomorrow will be at Tulsa at 2:30 p. m. central standard time.

Called Tactical Blunder.
According to Senator W. B. Pine of Oklahoma, the Smith speech there was a tactical blunder and his attack on former Senator Owens will cost him 20,000 votes.

Mr. Hoover is the choice for President of 2,510 persons out of the 9,747 listed in Who's Who in America, who replied to a straw ballot of the national committee. In his poll Mr. Hoover carries all but three states. The reasons given by these distinguished citizens for supporting Mr. Hoover were almost invariably based on qualifications and character. While no request for money was made, $5,000 came in voluntarily from these Hoover supporters. Mississippi, South Carolina and Arkansas were the only states casting a majority for Smith. Illinois voted 649 for Hoover, 51 for Smith. New York voted 1,235 for Hoover, 218 for Smith.

Shaw Puts in G. O. P. Orr.
Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury under Roosevelt, has contributed a pamphlet, "Your Job Against the Spectre of Illness and Ruin," which the national committee sent out today. The Underwood tariff, Mr. Shaw states, cut the American pay roll one hundred million dollars a week while it was in effect.

"Such a tariff as the Democrats advocate," Mr. Shaw says, "would unquestionably result in effective invasion of American markets by cheap foreign goods, while the difference in first cost, with transportation charges added, would bar us from foreign markets, except in noncompetitive markets and in things where we have quantity production or special skill."

DIES OF BURNS FROM STOVE BLAST.
And Olson, 50 years old, was cooking coffee over an alcohol burner in his attic home at 3150 Orchard street last evening when the stove exploded. Olson's clothing was ignited. Firemen carried him out, but his burns caused his death at John B. Murphy hospital.

ALABAMA TORN BETWEEN HATES IN THIS ELECTION

Even Klan Split, but Al Is Conceded State.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—If you were to take it from the Alabama people, the election in this presidential election with the choice between papal domination and Negro domination.

There is no whispering campaign in Alabama. They are talking right out loud here what the whisperers are whispering elsewhere. They are calling a spade a spade. The whole state is resounding with the sermons of Protestant preachers, the outgivings of the anti-Smith Democratic organization and the spellbinding of Republican leaders on the one hand that the election of Al Smith will deliver these United States to the Vatican. On the other are the counterings of the regular Democrats that the election of Hoover will sound the knell of white supremacy in the south.

Even Klan Is Split.
The development of the issue along these lines has split even the Ku Klux Klan. Torn between hatred of Catholics and hatred of Negroes, the hooded knights, who modestly confess to one hundred, if not one hundred and ten, per cent Americanism, have been compelled to weigh their hates.

Thus it falls out that in the state where it was the most puissant, where it named officials from United States senator to constable, and where for years it flogged the citizenry and regulated private conduct with a high hand, the invisible empire is invisibly afflicted with imperial palsy. Some of the hundred per centers, feeling the anti-Catholic urge uppermost, have bolted Smith and declared for Hoover. The others, who profess themselves more fearful of Negroes than of Catholics, are standing pat for Smith.

Regulars on Defensive.
The Democratic party is split wide open in Alabama. The anti-Smith Democrats, headed by Methodist and Baptist preachers, the Anti-Saloon league and the W. C. T. U., got away to a running start and have had the regular Democrats on the defensive up to date.

Gov. Graves and United States Senator Black, both elected by Klan votes, were dilatory in declaring for the ticket. Three of the ten congressmen are still holding aloof, as are several state officers, while Senator Tom Heflin and numerous state legislators, county officials and minor Democratic leaders are actively fighting Smith.

Even W. T. Brown, the Democratic national committeeman who started out to direct the Smith campaign, did not display the necessary enthusiasm

DRY LEAGUE HOOVER PAMPHLET OUT IN ILLINOIS NEXT MONTH

Two hundred thousand copies of "The Next President and Prohibition," a pamphlet published by the Anti-Saloon League of America, will be distributed among the congregations of Illinois churches some time in October, it was announced yesterday by Dr. George B. Safford, state superintendent of the league.

The pamphlet is in connection with the league's endorsement of Herbert Hoover for President. It contains a detailed statement by the league on prohibition, together with the records and declarations of Mr. Hoover and Gov. Al Smith on that issue.

and the Democratic state committee appeared mysteriously impotent. In this dilemma the loyal Smith men adopted heroic measures. They put a resolution through the state committee entrusting the Smith canvass to a special campaign committee headed by Congressman William B. Oliver, the oldest public man in the state.

Remove Two Committeemen.
Then, at a meeting of the state committee yesterday, two members were removed as openly disloyal to Smith. One of them is former Judge Hugh Locke of Birmingham, who is chairman of the anti-Smith Democratic organization. This action was the result of a storm of demands for the purging of the committee, the most impressive of which was voiced by Attorney General McCall, who prosecuted the Alabama foggers last year and won the hatred of the Klan thereby.

Oliver is whipping into shape a new Democratic organization which bids fair to be master of the situation on election day. By virtue of that fact and the unorganized state of the anti-Smith Democrats and Republicans, Smith undoubtedly will carry Alabama. Here, as elsewhere in the south, the system devised for eliminating the Negro from any voice in the government, and for otherwise controlling the electorate favors the regular Democrats.

How They Work It.
In Alabama, there are 1,200,000 persons of voting age of whom 480,000 are Negroes disfranchised by the state constitution. The constitution provides that a voter must be able to read and write and construe the United States constitution or own forty acres of land or $300 worth of property, and must have paid his poll tax for each year since 1901, or since reaching voting age.

To register for this election poll tax must have been paid in full prior to Feb. 1, last.

Nobody in Alabama makes any bones about the fact that the Negroes were disfranchised in defiance of the spirit of the fifteenth amendment although the Supreme court has held that the letter of the law was not violated. If the fourteenth amendment were enforced the Alabama representation at Washington would be reduced 40 per cent.

Expect Vote of 200,000.
A vote of about 200,000 is expected this year, it being estimated that 50,000 will stay away from the polls to avoid choosing between Smith and a "black Republican" or for other reasons. Thousands of whites, a large proportion of them women who would like to vote against Smith, will be barred by failure to pay poll taxes before Feb. 1.

There is no doubting but that religion is the big issue in Alabama. It is the talk everywhere. The Fellowship Forum, the American Standard and other anti-Catholic publications enjoy large sales in Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery and other cities. They are being disseminated in the rural districts by the bales at the expense of the anti-Smith organization. The American Standard carries a long letter by O. D. Street, Republican national committeeman, in which he seeks to justify opposition to Smith on religious grounds.

The blood curdling fake Knights of Columbus oath is being openly circulated in printed leaflet form by the bigory department of the anti-Smith campaign.

Paint Al as "Black."
In an effort to make voting for a Republican more palatable, the Republicans have slated only Democrats for presidential electors. And in an effort to meet the Negro domination issue raised by the regular Democrats, the bolters are painting Smith as "black" as Hoover. Mr. Locke has issued a broadside which he also is inserting in newspapers as a page advertisement, entitled "Al Smith, the Negro Lover."

It relates that the Harlem Negroes stand high in Tammany, Ferdinand Q. Morton, a Negro, being a New York civil service commissioner who "has under him white girls, white women, and white men, as well as colored people."

The broadside dwells on the lack of race segregation in New York schools, and charges Smith with voting for a New York law when he was speaker of the assembly prohibiting segregation in dance halls, bath houses, and other amusement places. It holds him responsible for the failure of a bill prohibiting miscegenation.

Congressman Oliver, in taking charge of the campaign for Smith, charged Hoover outright with a design to enforce the fifteenth amendment against Negro disfranchisement if he is elected President. He prefaced his remarks by referring to Hoover's abolishment of race segregation in the census bureau and by demanding whether Alabamians want to vote for the anti-lynching plank in the Republican platform.

Then he cited that part of the Hoover acceptance speech in which the candidate said that "there are those who do not believe in the purposes of several provisions of the constitution," and that the Republican party denies "the right to any one to seek to destroy the purposes of the constitution by indirect means."

Mr. Oliver asserted that Hoover clearly was referring not only to the eighteenth but to the fifteenth amendment which "the Republican party has always claimed the southern people have nullified." Mr. Hoover, said Congressman Oliver, clearly disputes the right to "prevent the Negro from voting except by repealing the amendment."

Then Mr. Oliver came right down to the nub of the proposition: That while the south is demanding enforcement and observance of the eighteenth amendment it is openly violating the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. It was the southern people, he said, that gave the greatest impetus to the movement to adopt the eighteenth amendment. The presence of the largest Negro population in the south was the condition out of which our prohibition sentiment grew.

SEASE STALKS PORTO RICO IN HURRICANE WAKE

15,000 Flu Cases, 5,000
Others Sick There.

PRINCE JUAN, Porto Rico, Sept. 23.—More than 15,000 cases of influenza were reported by the health authorities and Red Cross chapters at Puerto Rico today. They also reported 5,000 cases of malaria, measles and other diseases.

Flu victims are felt over the situation with the possibility that there may be an outside call for nurses if the epidemic cases continue their tendency to develop into pneumonia.

Reports of 254,000 homeless were made by representatives of 38 towns at today's meeting. These towns give 1,000 dead and 2,771 injured.

Final 200 More Florida Dead.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 23.—Two hundred additional bodies were found today at Pelican bay on Lake Okechobee, bringing to 400 the total found there since yesterday. Al Hinder, Washington representative of the American Red Cross, announced today.

Officials in charge of Florida hurricane relief work said today that the death list, estimated at 1,500 to 2,500, probably would never be accurately known.

It was explained that conditions in the devastated area now are such as to make a definite check impossible.

Searches still worked about the north and south around Lake Okechobee, searching for bodies of victims.

Disclosure of the additional 200 bodies at Pelican Bay led rescue workers to express fears that the entire population had died in the storm and flood. Normally a village of 250 people, the settlement was said to have been increased recently with a number of laborers to work in nearby cane fields.

Bury Bodies Where Found.

In placing the death list at "more than 1,500," Howard Selby, chairman of the Palm Beach chapter of the Red Cross, said that he could "lay his hands" on that many, adding that the cremation or burial of bodies where they were found had become necessary, it would be impossible to determine the total loss of life.

In a report made to Selby after a complete survey, O. C. Geiger said that 1,000 Negroes and 700 white persons had been lost during the hurricane. Geiger placed property damage in the district at $5 per cent and $10 per cent of the live stock and poultry in the area was killed.

Heavy Relief Work.

Reconstruction already has begun at buildings here and at Palm Beach. The sound of the hammer and screech of the saw continued today, as carpenters labored to restore the city to normal condition.

Plans for rehabilitation are being formulated by relief workers.

"Twenty stricken" laborers, who were all, will receive immediate relief, that will put them back "on their feet," they said.

A number of farmers, eager to return to their homesteads and begin the work of rehabilitation, have been housed with tents and rations.

They said, and others will receive similar aid.

Clothing has been furnished to 100 refugees, by the Salvation Army at camp of the depot here, and three trunks were sent to Pahokee and Bay Glades.

Leaves His Home in Auto; Car Found; Suicide Feared

David Katz, 25 years old, 924 La Salle parkway, disappeared last night under circumstances that led his mother, George, to inform the police.

He believed David might have committed suicide while despondent over lack of success in love. David recently was estranged from his fiancée, who sent him a ring. Yesterday he left home in his automobile. Last night George received a telegram from David bidding him farewell and telling him to call for the car at La Salle and Van Buren streets. The automobile was found there.

DAY'S GIFTS RAISE HURRICANE RELIEF FUND OVER $27,000

While Florida reports indicated a still rising toll of death and destruction yesterday in the areas lashed by the recent hurricane, contributions for relief of the stricken districts came in by mail at the offices of the Association of Commerce, which is conducting the Chicago drive for a $300,000 fund. Gifts of $1,602 were received last night, bringing the total thus far raised to $27,032, it was announced by James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross which will administer the fund.

"The true story of the hardships and suffering of these people in the West Palm Beach and Lake Okechobee regions has not been told," Mr. Forgan said. "There is every indication that it will be weeks before the actual death toll will be available. We know thousands are dependent on our drive and to save them from death, either by starvation or disease, we must raise our quota of $300,000 at once."

FARMER QUILTS ROLLER SKATING GRIND; 13 LEFT

The number of contestants in the roller skating endurance contest at the 181st regiment armory, 18th street and Michigan avenue, was reduced to 13 last night when Lawrence Schultz, young farmer from Gardner, Ill., failed to come back after 559 hours of skating.

Gardner had been exhibiting symptoms of a dazed condition for the last few days, his extreme weariness manifesting itself in incoherent chatter during the rest periods. He shadow boxed and did calisthenics and tried to promote organization of baseball nines. At 6 o'clock, however, all the efforts of his trainer failed to get him on his feet again, and another contestant for the $1,000 single prize had been eliminated.

Five couples and three single skaters, one man and two girls, remain in the race, which started on Sept. 1.

ENSIGNS MUST PAY THEIR DEBTS FOR PROMOTION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Many ensigns in the navy who have been examined this year for promotion to the rank of junior lieutenant are finding their commissions withheld because of failure to meet their financial obligations. The difficulty appears to be that many midshipmen after leaving the Naval academy and getting their commissions as ensigns find it very easy to purchase any article desired, regardless of whether it is needed. Salesmen tell them that they need not pay until they are able or until some future time. In other words, the budding young admiral's to be are more or less victimized by slick salesmen.

SALTIS CELL IS STILL VACANT AFTER 126 DAYS

Chicago's loneliest police cell — yearning for Joe Saltis for the last 126 days — was as empty as ever last night. And it promised to remain empty unless the police station on which has been yawning and force gets busy for Saltis, who, it will be recalled, is one of the city's best known south side bear barons, has shown no tendency to come in and relieve the situation.

There is one speck of light on the horizon for the police, however, and that consists of the fact that Saltis is wanted in Federal Judge Wilkerson's court on Tuesday morning to answer an old prohibition violation charge. The police hope that Joe's better nature may take possession of him and induce him to appear before the Federal court and if he does they will be on hand to seize and throw him into that lonesome detective bureau cell.

Saltis is wanted to serve a sentence of sixty days in the house of correction and to pay a $50 fine for gun totting.

STORE BOBBED OF $125.

Three armed men entered the haberdashery store of Albert H. Pollock at 305 East 47th street yesterday and escaped with $125 from the cash register after forcing the owner, a clerk and a customer into a rear room.

THE BATTLING WITH FOREST FIRE IN CALIFORNIA

Cal. Sept. 23.—(AP) Forest fires in California today while some fronts and fought with varying degrees of success.

three in the central portion, and six in the northern section. Nearly 5,000 men were expected on the fire lines.

Die Fighting Blazes.

The dead are: Ned Lane, 24, Oakland; Edward Gamiot, 45, and Peter Navarez, 43, of Livermore, and Robert Burns, 58, Sonoma county rancher. Lane, Gamiot and Navarez were killed when the gasoline tank on a truck was exploded by flames from a brush fire which they had planned to fight.

A fire was reported in the Sequoia national forest, while two others were reported in San Mateo county. Four thousand acres had been burned over on San Pedro mountain and 100 men resorted to backfiring.

The Magalia fire north of Chico, in the Sacramento valley, was reported to be in hand after denuding 6,000 acres. Chapparral, near by, suffered heavy damage.

Red Grange Lodge in Danger.

The fire in Philbrook, north of Sterling City, had subsided after taking a toll of 5,000 acres of scattered timber and brush.

Six fires were reported raging in Mendocino county, while in Sonoma county the fires were said to be under control with one exception, that near Cloverdale, which was threatening a hunting lodge owned by "Red" Grange and C. C. Fyle.

Six hundred men were said to be fighting a blaze near Calistoga which already had caused $500,000 damage.

In southern California the most serious fire was on the edge of the Santa Barbara national forest, above Fillmore.

More than 40,000 acres of brush and timberlands near the San Diego-Silver side county line had been swept over and fear was expressed for the safety of Warner's Hot Springs.

The fire along the Bakerfield-Los Angeles route was racing east and west.

The fire that last night threatened the heavy trees of Palomar mountain was reported burning fiercely on one side of the mountain.

DRIVER KILLED AS AUTO IS HIT BY "L" TRAIN

John Petrilli, 24 years old, 4728 West 18th street, Cicero, was fatally injured yesterday when his automobile was struck by a Douglas Park elevated train on a surface crossing at 47th avenue and 23d street, Cicero. He died a short time later at the Western Electric company's emergency hospital.

This death and one other increased the motor toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 632.

Mrs. Mary Delehan, 43 years old, 151 North Hamilton avenue, was killed when she was struck at Lake street and Kedzie avenue by a Yellow cab driven by Joseph Lipton, 1233 North La Salle street. The cab had collided with an automobile as it passed Mrs. Delehan and was hurled against her. Lipton was held for the inquest. Three men who were killed shortly after midnight when their automobile was hurled by a fast passenger train from the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad tracks at a River Grove crossing were identified yesterday. They were Raymond Nelson, 43 years old, 3508 North 76th avenue; Fred Reese, 46 years old, 77th court and School street, and Elmer Anderson, 46 years old, 2314 79th avenue, Belmont Heights.

Glenn Sees Victory; Plans Capital Sojourn for Family

Otis F. Glenn, Republican nominee for the United States senate, said yesterday that while he was in Washington last week he made school arrangements there for his two daughters, Elizabeth, 14 years old, and Martha, 7. "I don't want to seem overconfident," he said, "but I must admit that my visit looked forward to my spending considerable time in the capital during the next few years." Mr. Glenn said that both President Coolidge and Nominee Herbert Hoover expressed satisfaction with the reports on the Illinois campaign.

SWANSON ALSO OFFERS TO HELP LOESCH INQUIRY

Replies to Lindsay's Letter About Quiz.

In a form of rebuttal to the letter written by Judge William J. Lindsay, Democratic nominee for state's attorney, promising to "support unreservedly" a continuation of the work of Special Prosecutor Frank J. Loesch, Judge John A. Swanson, the Republican entry, issued a statement yesterday "unequivocally" pledging that if elected he will avail himself of the talents not only of Mr. Loesch but of all other available persons.

In his statement Judge Swanson said: "There appears in the press of today a letter said to be written by Judge William J. Lindsay, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, addressed to Mr. Frank J. Loesch, special assistant attorney general, in charge of the special grand jury investigation. In the letter Judge Lindsay says that if he is elected 'he will be proud and pleased to support unreservedly a continuation of the work in which Mr. Loesch is now engaged and that he 'should expect to accord you as free a hand as you now enjoy, a freer hand, in fact, if you are hampered in any way by restrictions that could be removed.'"

"Should Leave No Doubt. "To expect to accord Mr. Loesch as free a hand as Mr. Loesch now enjoys is one thing. To give him unreserved promise that, regardless of expectations, Judge Lindsay in any and every event will give Mr. Loesch the power he now is exercising in such splendid fashion, is another matter relative to which Judge Lindsay makes no expression.

"There should be no uncertainty about it. The work thus far done by Mr. Loesch is of such tremendous consequence to this community, that any expressions relative to the continuance of that work should not be left in doubt. "It must be presumed that any forthright and honest candidate for any public office in this country thankfully and solemnly approves of the task steadily pursued by Mr. Loesch.

"There is little reason for Judge Lindsay's letter unless he is apprehensive that his record and his political associates, both, were and are such as to cause one to wonder what would become of the unfinished work of Mr. Loesch's staff if Judge Lindsay were to become the state's attorney of this country. "Pledges His Support. "Merely to say that if elected state's attorney he would expect to accord as free a hand as is now given the attorney general's office is not to say that the investigation will in every event go unrelentingly on, but to say merely, that the staff conducting that investigation shall have as free, or freer, hand than it now has so far as Judge Lindsay is concerned. "So that there may be no doubt about my position in the matter I unequivocally pledge the whole force of the office of the state's attorney of Cook county to the swift, certain and complete disruption and destruction of the alliance between crime and politics, and that I will avail myself not only of the splendid talents of Mr. Loesch, but any and every other person available for that high business."

Bandits Not Content with Cash; Take Victim's Suits
Two bandits stepped out of a cab at Central Park and Wilson avenue early yesterday, robbed Michael Horwitz, 4623 North Central Park avenue, and Irving Menckel, 1812 South Kedzie avenue, of $12.65 and compelled them to strip off their suits, which they also took. A short time later the victims, wearing overcoats obtained from a rewearer's store, reported the robbery to Albany Park police.

LOESCH TO SEEK FIFTH JURY FOR QUIZ INTO FRAUD

Work Still to Be Done, He Declares.

Investigation of the alliance of Chicago criminals and politicians, resulting in an election murder, bombings, slayings, kidnappings, and frauds, is far from completed, despite the work of four special grand juries, and another such body must be drawn for October, Frank J. Loesch, special prosecutor, declared yesterday.

When the special September grand jury, which still has a week to sit, completes its work the prosecutors will appear before Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court and ask that a new special venire be drawn.

"There remain to be investigated and inquired into matters which the September grand jury cannot possibly find the time to take up," Mr. Loesch said. "We have decided that a special October grand jury will have to be asked for and we shall request it."

No Decision on Funds.
It had previously been stated that the $152,000 subscribed by the public for the election frauds probe has been depleted. Mr. Loesch was asked concerning new funds. He said that he has held several conferences concerning funds with Carl R. Latham, who was president of the bar association when the original petition for special jury action was started.

"We have come to no definite understanding concerning the funds," Loesch continued, "but I am inclined against raising any more money by public subscription. I think funds will be forthcoming somehow. We can get no help from the county board at this time but we may be able to get such help next December."

Probe Election Pay Roll.

The remaining time of the September jury will be taken up, it was stated, with a continuation of the inquiry into the padding of pay rolls in the office of Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Eitelson and into election crimes on the south side.

The October grand jury will be asked to take up cases of pay roll padding in city and county offices other than that of Eitelson.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; FOUR OF SINGLE FAMILY KILLED

Jeffersonville, Ind., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Four members of a family were killed today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a southbound Pennsylvania passenger train at a crossing near Henryville, Ind. A six-year-old boy and a baby, who was tossed from the car, were the only survivors. The dead are: Edgar (Garfield) Jones, 47; his wife, Cora, 44; and their daughters, Valma, 13, and Gladys, 5, all of Crothersville, Ind.

A SMART STORE FOR SMART WOMEN.

...and Paris says:

... even if one is slim, simply everyone is wearing some sort of foundation garment. It is perhaps only inevitable, with the carelessly straight frock of yesterday giving way to the more subtly draped effect of this season's mode.

Anyway, the dictum has been spoken, and skilled designers have come to the rescue with some lovely things. There are the long, well-fitting garments that give wonderful slim lines to the ever-so-slightly plump . . . and brief little affairs of ribbon and lace for insouciant youth . . . and new brassieres that are light but firm.

You will be more than delighted with them . . . and, of course, all are fitted with Stevens unsurpassed service.

WALLACE SAVES GIRL IN BLAZE; BURNED

Wrecks Circuit Court Clerk's Summer Home.

Robert O. Wallace, clerk of the Circuit Court, was burned about the face and hands yesterday when his summer home at Twin Lakes, twelve miles west of Chicago, was consumed by fire. No one else was injured. The damage caused by the fire was estimated at $15,000. Wallace, widely known in Republican circles and formerly alderman in the fourth ward, received his injuries when he returned to the house after the fire was first noticed. He was found by the fire department who had been trapped by the flames.

Mr. Wallace, with three other persons, were spending the week-end at the summer home, which occupied a large lot and was known as Wallace house. The house, an eight room structure, was quickly deserted by the occupants when the fire was first noticed. Wallace dashed back into the house, and the girl overcome by smoke, was rescued by him. He and his wife were taken to the home of a physician where a physician dressed the burns.

Fire in Night Clothing. According to friends here last night, Mr. Wallace said his burns were not serious, but that he and the other occupants of the house had been lucky to escape, as the fire had not been discovered before it was discovered at 3 o'clock. All fled in night clothing, he said.

The contents of the house were saved, including the entire wardrobe of Mrs. Wallace and a quantity of jewelry. Defective electric wiring was believed to have caused the fire, Wallace said. He was said to have received a reprieve of the fire from last March when he was a candidate for Republican committeeman in the fourth ward.

DAKE CAPTURES EASTBOUND AIR DERBY, CLASS A

Chicagoan Second in B Event.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 23.—(P)—Robert A. Dake of Pittsburgh, Pa., flying an American Moth, was declared the winner of the class A air race from Los Angeles to Cincinnati today when he brought his plane to earth here at 2:10 p. m. after flying 15 hours 16 minutes and 42 seconds at an average speed of 33.15 miles an hour. First prize was $2,000.

Charles W. Holman of St. Paul, Minn., piloting a Laird plane, won first place in the class B group. He landed at 1:30 p. m. after 19 hours and 24 minutes in the air, making an average of 107.98 miles an hour. His prize also was $2,000.

Goebel Wins Nonstop.

Arthur Goebel, flying the Lockheed Vega "Yankee Doodle," won the nonstop race. Goebel landed at 10:25 p. m. yesterday after 15 hours and 17 minutes in the air for an average of 129.47 miles an hour. Goebel was the only entrant to complete the hop.

George W. Hopkins, Detroit, Stinson Jr., was second in class A, winning 3900; time, 25 hours 21 minutes and 23 seconds; average speed 32.93 miles an hour.

Chicagoan Takes Second. E. H. Ballough of Chicago, the only other class B entrant to arrive, took second prize of $900. He landed at 3:10 p. m. in his Laird plane, after 23 hours 13 minutes and 13 seconds, flying for an average of 33.13 miles an hour.

Emil Burgin, the other nonstop entrant, was down at Albuquerque, giving up the flight there when he ran into a dust storm.

ROBBERS GUARDED, ONE SLAIN.

Two colored robbers, who had robbed a pedestrian of $90 several hours earlier, quarreled yesterday morning over the division of the loot. Then they fought. Lawrence Foltz, 39, of 535 West Division street, was shot and killed by William Lee, 28, of 407 West Division street.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 23.—Gen. Chiang Kai-shek announced the receipt of a telegram from the Nationalist general, Pai Chung-hai, in northern Chihli province, announcing the complete defeat of a remnant of the Chihli-Shantung troops, and the flight of Gen. Chang Chung-chang, who supposedly has taken refuge within the Japanese leased area in Manchuria.

According to Gen. Chiang, the defeated Chihli and Shantung forces now are being disarmed, according to an agreement between the Nationalists and Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, head of the Manchurian government. Most of the defeated troops have been discharged, but the effective are divided between the Nationalist and Manchurian armies, while the Luan-ho river will be the line of demarcation between the two forces.

To Facilitate Unification.
The defeat of the Chihli-Shantung troops, numbering approximately 100,000, which had been holding out against the Nationalists controlling a section of northern Chihli, now is expected to facilitate the unification of Manchuria and Nationalist China.

It is reported that the terms of unification include the dissolution of the Manchurian government and the creation of a branch Nationalist government committee in that area composed of representatives of the three eastern provinces, Fengtien, Kirin, and Heilungkiang. Other conditions include Nanking's taking over all diplomatic relations affecting Manchuria and foreign powers, while the Manchurians vow allegiance to the Nationalist government and will fly the Nationalist flag.

The date for the enforcement of the union has not been announced, but it is believed it will be before the end of the year, depending, supposedly, on the attitude of the Japanese, who have been opposing the unification.

Reorganize Government.
It was unofficially announced today that the Nationalists have practically completed the reorganization of the system of government, eliminating the previous soviet form, which was borrowed from Russia. Under the new scheme, Gen. Chiang will head the Nationalist government council, his position being similar to that of president or premier.

Five government councils will be created with Tan Yen-kai and Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang heading the administrative board; Hu Han-ming and Tai Chi-tao heading the legislative board; Wang Chung-wei heading the judicial board; Tsai Yuan-pei and Sun Fo heading the civil service board, and Lin Sheng and Gen. Li Chung-sen heading the supervisory board.

Plans Made for Second Travel Exposition Here
Plans for the second international travel exposition were announced last night. At least twenty foreign governments will have exhibits at the exposition, to be held in the Hotel Sherman from Nov. 11 to 18.

SLAYER OF BOY SAYS HE AIMED AT "PERFECT CRIME"

Claims Loeb-Leopold Acts Inspired Him.

BY CLIFFORD GESSLER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1928, By The Chicago Tribune.)

HONOLULU, Sept. 23.—Gill Jamieson, 10 year old son of Frederick W. Jamieson, vice president of the Royal Hawaiian Trust company, was kidnapped and murdered by a well educated, intelligent Japanese youth of 19, who tried to commit the perfect crime. Yatake Fukunaga, the murderer, who was captured on a busy street corner after he had been traced through one of the $5 bills of the ransom money which he spent in a restaurant, made a new confession at Oahu prison today. He said he had read extensively of the Loeb-Leopold and Hickman cases, and patterned his crime to prove they might have evaded the law.

It developed that the youth, who first saw Gill when the son of the banker entered the Queen's hospital for an operation, also planned to murder the father. He said he had a hammer with which to strike the elder Jamieson when he brought him the $4,000 ransom money, but was foiled because Mr. Jamieson went to meet him in a roadster instead of his sedan. The Japanese feared to hit him as he sat in the open car because he thought some one would see him.

Unpaid Rent Bill Was Motive.
The motive for the crime was revealed when Fukunaga told Mr. Jamieson's attorney he first meditated it when the Hawaiian Trust company pressed his father for rent. The Japanese also planned to kill John Galt, president of the company, but picked on Jamieson because he thought he had plenty of money.

The victim's father viewed the killer at the jail this morning. Mr. Jamieson stared silently at Fukunaga for three minutes. The youth hung his head and mumbled something about "I'm sorry."

The attorney's office said

Fukunaga undoubtedly will face the death penalty, though he is a minor.

Graduated with Honors.

Fukunaga paces his cell, nervously twisting his hands, and repeats over and over, "I am sorry." He has perfect command of English, and was graduated from high school with the highest honors in his class. His family said he always has been a good boy, but they believe his confession is true.

He was an avid reader of adventure yarns and used to go to the secluded spot of the murder for solitude. The idea struck him that it would be an excellent place for some crime. He insisted he carried out the crime alone. He claims he wanted the money to send his father to Japan.

KNITTER WITH GUN DRIVES OFF STRIKE PICKETS

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Another attack in Kenosha's labor war was averted here today when Alvin Cudaby, 19, an Allen A. knitter, menaced four strikers with a revolver while he was on his way to church. He said the four attempted to attack him and he warned them off with his revolver. One of the four called a police officer and Cudaby was arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

The condition of the two Allen A. workers who were shot from ambush Saturday while on their way home from work was reported as slightly improved, at the Kenosha hospital tonight. Norris Hendrickson, 23, and Hayden Bryant, 20, were both peppered with birdshot when the car in which they were riding met a volley of shots from the roadside. Both men recognizing two of their assailants.

This New PIERCE-ARROW Sedan
now sells for $2750

Pierce-Arrow, for twenty-seven years, has supplied a single market. A market where fineness is prerequisite—where price is not of first importance.

Pierce-Arrow will continue to supply this same market—regardless of price reductions.

There has been no lessening of Pierce-Arrow quality. There will be none.

Perhaps that is why the new Pierce-Arrow five-passenger Sedan pictured above—America's most admired family car—carries so irresistible an appeal at today's price.

It represents a saving of $600—without the sacrifice of anatomy of its original quality. It is endowed with all possible Pierce-Arrow fineness—in finish, in upholstery, in fittings, in equipment.

The trade-in value of your present car may more than cover the initial payment required on this special Pierce-Arrow offering.

The terms are exceedingly attractive.

Here are the New Low Prices

Note that today's prices are lower than ever before known to cars of Pierce-Arrow manufacture:

Models:	Former Price	Today's Price	Amount of Reduction
7-Passenger Enclosed Drive Limousine	$3550	$2950	$600
7-Passenger Sedan	3450	2850	600
Convertible Coupe	3450	2950	500
4-Passenger Coupe	3450	2950	500
5-Passenger Sedan	3350	2750	600
2-Passenger Coupe	3350	2750	600
4-Passenger Touring	3100	2700	400
Runabout	2900	2600	300
5-Passenger Club Brougham	2750	2475	275

(Prices quoted are f.o.b. Buffalo)

Your present car will be accepted at fairly appraised value. This will apply against down and monthly payments which make Pierce-Arrow ownership surprisingly easy

Her Well-Worded Tribune Want Ad Brought an Abundance of Prospective Tenants

"That giving full information about the place you want to rent is the surest method of closing a deal was forcefully brought home to me by an ad I ran in the Tribune. Not only did it produce a large number of prospective tenants, but also the families that came were pre-sold, and I was able to close a deal without any difficulty."

MRS. EVA NICKELS
5537 S. Hermitage Ave.
Chicago, Ill.

IF you have a vacant apartment to rent this fall there is one sure way to attract a good tenant. Just describe it fully in a Tribune Want Ad, specify the number of rooms—the location—the conveniences—the service—the special features—and it will rent, as Mrs. Eva Nickels of 5537 South Hermitage Avenue discovered.

She was careful to give full information concerning the apartment she had for rent, and the results proved her wisdom. From the score of high-class prospects that had been pre-sold by her ad, she was able to select a good tenant, and close the deal without difficulty.

Nearly everyone looking for houses and apartments consults the Tribune first because it carries 88% more of Chicago's "To Rent" advertising than all the other newspapers combined. With an abundance of prospects assured, the rest is just a matter of writing a convincing, well worded ad. You may be sure your ad will produce results! Phone . . .

HOOVER AND AL BOTH CATCH IT AT SOCIALIST RALLY

Chicago Branch of Party Hears Nominee Thomas.

Chicago Socialists to the number of 1,000, heard their presidential nominee, Norman Thomas of New York, at the Amalgamated auditorium, 1110 North Dearborn street, last night.

They saw a man considered by far the best candidate in the field, well tailored, and athletically minded. His ruddy cheeks almost hid the gray hair receding from a forehead free from wrinkles. Although only 35, he had the air of a man who had been a fashionable New York pulpitist, and he had the air of a man who had been a fashionable New York pulpitist.

Denounces Both Nominees.
They heard him denounce the nominees of both major parties, Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, and although he struck at the Democrats frequently, his audience applauded more warmly the greater force he put into his punch at the Republicans.

Thomas hit at both when he took up what he said they consider the chief issues of the campaign.
"Herbert Hoover says the big issue is what he refers to as prosperity," he began. "There's plenty of that on Wall street. But it's just a stock market prosperity."
"He is either misinformed or is misrepresenting the situation when he says the army of unemployed totals only 1,500,000. That figure is only the increase in unemployment since 1925. There has been no successful contradiction of the report of the Bureau of Labor, Inc., that there were 4,000,000 unemployed last spring. And I have seen no sign of any diminution in that total during my travels across the country."

"Hoover talks about a prosperity that for the most of us doesn't exist."

Haps Al's Power Stand.
"And Al says that boose is the main issue—that is, he says that in some places. Now you see it and now you don't. It depends on where you are."
On the power trust issue Thomas condemned both the major party candidates. He said that Hoover is the apologist for the trust, "lobby and all" and dismissed him there. But he went to more length in criticizing Gov. Smith's talk on water power at Denver Saturday night. He contended that the Democrat did not cover adequately a main phase of the power problem, that of transmission.

"This partial program of Gov. Smith's," he argued, "is a million miles from what we need. It will never curb the power trust or substantially reduce rates to consumers. All the water sites still in public possession, as every engineer knows, are capable of producing only a small part of the total electric power that America needs."

"The monopoly might surround and defeat Gov. Smith's government enterprises, as they have surrounded and defeated some small municipal enterprises or as a chain store crushes the little cooperative."

"The heart of the problem is transmission. Gov. Smith does not even recommend preferential treatment in contracts for municipal light corporations. He says that contractual relations and regulatory commissions will take care of transmission. That is a vain hope."

Other speakers at the meeting included George R. Kirkpatrick, nominee for United States senator from Illinois; George Koop, nominee for governor, and August Classens, chairman of the Socialist executive committee of New York City, who made a strong plea for contributions to the national campaign fund. It produced $275.

PROPERTY RIGHTS OF THE RADIO.

The federal radio commission's reallocation of radio broadcasting stations, an order which puts into force the new amendment to the radio law requiring equal distribution of radio facilities among the five radio zones, becomes effective on Nov. 11.

In the reassignment of broadcasting frequencies, power and operating periods and in the abolition of certain stations, the commission proceeded on the theory that there are no property rights vested in the radio. This communistic conception of the ether was accepted in order to correct abuses which had developed under the former assumption that any person or organization with theories to project, enterprises to promote, or entertainment to offer was free to establish a broadcasting station so long as the programs remained within the prescriptions of decency on the air.

The radio commission has, in its disregard of the radio's claims to property rights, merely logically interpreted the conception embodied in the enabling legislation. This view has the virtue of expediency. It permits, for the present at least, an arbitrary shuffling of stations so that nearly ideal reception throughout the country may be produced. The benefits, however, we predict, will be only momentary. For undoubtedly stations which feel that they have been virtually forced off the air by loss of advertising revenue, if they are compelled to share time with others or accept undesirable frequencies, will attack the constitutionality of the radio law.

Should, as is not unlikely, the courts declare the radio law unconstitutional, the entire "deal" set up established by the commission will be upset and the former pandemonium of the air will again obtain. There has been no solution of the radio situation, and we are satisfied that there will be none until legislation is enacted which recognizes the investment of radio stations as property. There must be a sense of security and proprietorship in the operator of a radio station before he will invest in its maintenance and improvement and will develop a program of high quality. There is perhaps a need for supervision of the radio for a time, but confiscation must not be contemplated.

MR. KELLOGG AND ANOTHER KIND OF TREATY.

Secretary Kellogg has brought a Latin American controversy to a successful conclusion in which American rights and interests seem to be safeguarded. Colombia and Nicaragua have negotiated a treaty which concedes Nicaragua possession of the Mosquito coast and of islands off Bluefields which the United States holds in lease. Colombia in turn is recognized in other possessions which had been in dispute.

The American interest is in the Nicaraguan canal right of way, which is reserved for the needs of the future as they may be disclosed, and the new treaty, interpreted or defined by an exchange of notes, will prevent the embarrassment of international misunderstanding or manipulation.

It may be said for Mr. Kellogg that, except for his Bryanite excursion into the sentimentalities of war outlawry, he looks at the American scheme with a practical and realistic eye. Substantial accomplishment in this regard may not get him much enthusiastic reception in Europe or much praise from the organizations of higher altruism; they may not get him many tablets, but they may save his country a great deal of trouble and do it a great deal of good. And that is the real job of an American secretary of state. He, of all Americans, is in a special agent, a trustee peculiarly engaged in a special duty and pledged to high obligations. He has charge of the welfare of the American nation in international affairs and nothing is to be placed above it.

THE PANAMA CANAL AND THE TAXPAYER.

The Panama Canal company in the calendar year 1934 earned $117,000,000 in divisible profits. Here is the measure of what the United States government might obtain from the Panama canal if that project were managed on a business basis.

Government accountants have maintained that the Panama canal was paying for itself through the tolls collected. This assertion has been denied by the accountants of the transcontinental railroads, who insist that the sums collected are not sufficient to retire the bonds with the proceeds of which the canal was built. In our view this question for the present can be considered an academic one. The fact that the canal tolls could be much higher than they are without entailing any considerable loss of traffic. The United States government has a debt of 18 billion dollars, which weighs heavily upon all the taxpayers of the country. In such circumstances the government ought to lose no opportunity to increase its revenues from any source which does not bear directly upon the taxpayers of this country. The Panama canal is such a source. Much of the increased revenue from higher tolls would be derived from foreign cargoes, neither bound from nor destined to our ports.

The present schedule of tolls works a serious injustice to the middle west. Our money helped pay for the construction of the canal, but the canal enabled seaboard manufacturers to capture our markets on the west coast, although we are a thousand miles nearer those markets geographically. Eastern and foreign shippers send their products to our west coast by way of the canal; we must continue for the most part to use the railroads with their higher rates. An increase in the canal rates would tend to restore the disturbed balance and confine the American markets to American manufacturers.

PROGRESS IN ENFORCEMENT.

A girl, 14 years old, a freshman in the high school at Weldon, in De Witt county, Ill., was one of a number of spies employed by the state's attorney of Christian county to obtain evidence against bootlegging resorts. She was to be paid a bounty for each conviction obtained through her assistance.

The child disappeared. Her relatives suspected that she had been kidnapped by John G. Berlew, employed, like her, as a spy. A warrant was sworn out charging Berlew with kidnapping. He was hunted through the countryside and was found a few minutes after he had hastily married the girl. Before the marriage they had spent several nights together in a hotel at Taylorville, Ill., while the search for him was progressing.

We await with interest a protest from the churchmen of the Anti-Saloon league; we await with equal interest an expression of indignation from the good women of the Women's Christian Temperance union against this outrage upon childhood and decency. A state's attorney, bent on prohibition enforcement, has encouraged a schoolgirl to go, in company with mature men, into the meanest dives of his county. He has encouraged her, while there, to buy liquor. He has thrown her into the company of professional sneaks. All this has been done in the name of a law for the enactment of which the Anti-Saloon league and the W. C. T. U. are largely responsible. Supervision of the enforcement of that law is the only conceivable purpose for the continued existence of the league and the union.

The league and the union cannot escape a share of responsibility for this abuse of childhood, but if the past conduct of dry sympathizers is to serve as a guide, there will be no protest. The organized dries saw the child Mildred Lee, drowned in the Detroit river, but expressed no indignation against overzealous enforcement. They have seen the old man Gundlach shot to death on his Maryland farm; they have seen forty men drowned on the submarine S-4; they have seen Hanson of Buffalo shot through the brain, sinking from leadership in his community through infidelity to death, and through all this murderous enforcement most of those responsible for the enactment of the law have remained silent.

For every dry spokesman who has protested, we venture to say, there have been a dozen who have egged the prohibition agents on to sterner measures. This they have done in defense of what is in reality only a piece of social legislation of exactly the same sort as the factory laws, the child labor laws, and the tenement laws. Is it conceivable that the Association Against Child Labor would remain silent if children were prostituted in enforcing the measures which this association has fostered? Would social workers remain silent if enforcement of laws which they had advocated was accompanied by murder and rape?

We have been taken to task for calling the members of the Anti-Saloon league bigots and fanatics. When the organized dries repudiate murder and rape as the companions of enforcement we may find it possible to modify our views and our language.

ITALY'S ACT OF FRIENDSHIP.

Italy's consul general in Chicago, Mr. Giuseppe Castruccio, has been sitting beside Judge Comerford during the inquiry into the kidnapping of the Ranzieri boy. Mr. Castruccio's help has been valuable and Chicago is grateful for it. His presence in the courtroom has left no doubt in the minds of witnesses who otherwise might be reluctant to testify that public opinion in the Italian colony is on the side of the constituted authorities. Mr. Castruccio's knowledge of the methods pursued by his government in suppressing the Mafia in its place of origin, Sicily, has been placed at the service of our police. His action is one of the few evidences which have come to our attention of a desire on the part of foreign governments to assist the authorities in this country in handling some of the complex problems arising from immigration. When men of alien customs and traditions are transplanted to this country it is inevitable that they will not understand our institutions. The foreign consuls can be of great service, as Mr. Castruccio has demonstrated, in instructing their nationals in the ways of this country.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO'S GANGS.

[See Moline Sunday Register.] So long as thinking like the murder of Gangster Lombardo in the heart of the loop district by daylight can continue to occur in Chicago, there is no use for city officials or other apologists to make speeches or write magazine articles to the effect that Chicago is well governed and respectfully policed.

It is just obviously isn't so. Occasional murders of passion can take place anywhere, and more of them have to be expected in an American city than in an English city, apparently. The reasons may be obscure, but since all American figures are higher, it may as well be granted that the reasons exist. But that is one thing, and the continued, haunting existence of law defying gangs, which carry their private wars with machine guns and bombs wherever they like, even to the center of the city at midday, is another thing. Honest and efficient law enforcement would put an end to such things and do it in thirty days. It would no more be tolerated in Paris or London, merely to name two other metropolises, than the bohemian plague would be tolerated. Liquor running and the gangs are not really warred against. That is the answer so far as Chicago is concerned. And Chicago, a big and modern city, second largest in population on the western continent, has degenerated into something like the condition of a western frontier camp before the law came.

Resenting the gibes of the rest of the country, the gunman cartoons and so on, is pure nonsense so long as Chicago lets criminal gangs do almost as they please.

GETTING FATTER.

"I AM gaining flesh all the time. I rarely eat meat, but if I do it is fat meat. I seem to crave rich food, butter, potatoes, and corn, but not much sweet."

The above is abstracted from a letter written by a lady who is fat and getting fatter. It runs straight to the heart of the obesity question and it explains why so. Many who start treatment for obesity fail by the way-side.

There are a few people who are obese because of abnormality of some ductless gland or other. It is known that the thyroid gland has much to do with the metabolism rate and that is related to fatness and thinness. It is also a fact that the gonads influence the putting on and taking off of fat. Both the pituitary body and the pineal gland have some ability to regulate body build. The contour of the body, the division of the trunk as between chest and abdomen, has something to do with obesity. But these are not the factors in the case of that people get fat because they crave rich foods and because they do not work hard enough to burn up the excess. The combination of craving appetite, self-indulgence, weakness of will, and lack of energy, which is found in so many fat people, is the real reason for their obesity. They may think they want to reduce, but it is a passing impulse. This impulse may break the combination of appetite, indulgence and inertia, for a week, or maybe a month, but in the end the leopard's spots all come back.

Since the real reason for obesity is the mental makeup of the obese, and since few are able to make themselves over, treating people for obesity, giving diets, passing out rules for reducing, is not to be taken seriously. Men of long experience generally stick the tongue in the cheek as they render such service. They regard it as something of a summer sport.

T. B. AND CONTAGION.

E. writes: "I am tuberculosis contagious and to what extent comparable to other diseases, which is found in so many fat people, is the real reason for their obesity. They may think they want to reduce, but it is a passing impulse. This impulse may break the combination of appetite, indulgence and inertia, for a week, or maybe a month, but in the end the leopard's spots all come back."

It is contagious, but far less so than other contagious diseases. Smallpox and measles are at one end of the line, tuberculosis at the other.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(Friend of the People.)—I would like to know what the board of education intends to do with the corner of Belmont avenue and Robey street, and why did they refuse to have the alley paved at the John school at Lincoln street and Belmont avenue. Thanking you in advance for information, very respectfully, C. P.

The question of leasing or selling of vacant school lands is being given consideration by the board of education and pending the permanent disposition of this question the vacant school tract at the northwest corner of Robey street and Belmont avenue is being held idle.

At a meeting of the board of education held Sept. 12, 1935, authority was granted to lease with property owners in the block in which the John school is located to pave the alley in said block by private contract with the Metropolitan Park department.

The board of education's share of the cost of said work, namely, $1,044.48, has been appropriated and is to be paid in full as the work is completed. JOHN E. BYRNES, Bureau of Real Estate and Property Control Board of Education.

TO CANCEL BOOK ORDER.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(Legal Friend of the People.)—I signed a book order blank for a dictionary costing $15, which is to be delivered C. O. D. next January, after a high pressure salesman talked me into buying. I now find that I do not want this book. Order states that it is not subject to refund, but I want no refund. Can the publishing firm force me to buy this book or give me my money back?

If the original transaction was merely an order which was not to become binding on the seller until accepted or confirmed by him, you were entitled to cancel at any time before the dispatching of such acceptance or confirmation. Otherwise it is binding on you unless you have some defense such as misrepresentation or fraud.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

WASHINGTON—Dispatches from Gen. Rosecrans, dated Sept. 22, say the rebel attack on Gen. Thomas' corps on Sept. 21 was repulsed with heavy loss to the rebels and the march to a position near Chattanooga without molestation. Gen. Rosecrans has his army concentrated and the result of the recent battle is not regarded as unfavorable. Four thousand of those "ragged" rebels, who fled from Sept. 20 were removed from the field. The regulars lost nearly 1,200 out of 1,600 men. Reinforcements have been received in sufficient number to enable Rosecrans to assume the offensive when he chooses to do so.

CHATTANOOGA.—No new attack has been made by the enemy, although it was confidently expected to-day. The Union army is in the best of spirits since the fact became apparent that the battle of Chickamauga was almost as much of a defeat for the rebels as for us.

NASHVILLE.—The number of casualties at Chattanooga will be the severest on record. Col. Bradley of Chicago is seriously wounded. The 88th Illinois was reported badly cut up. The list of Illinois casualties is said to be fearfully large. The 23d Illinois also is considerably broken up. Lieut. Col. Hall and Capt. Rice, Ritter, Spink, and Whitney of the 89th Illinois are killed.

CHICAGO.—Daniel Noyes and Miss Julia A. Howell, both of La Porte, Ind., were married at the residence of T. J. Newell, Esq., in this city on Sept. 22 by the Rev. C. F. S. Savage.

NAPLES.—Where the present series of eruptions of Vesuvius will end none can tell, but many residents here profess to fear the destruction of Naples, although for the most part they are cheerful and laughing just as were their ancestors of Pompeii and Herculaneum just before they were eternally buried. PARIS.—French, Serbian, British, Italian, and Greek armies all continued to advance against the Bulgars and Germans in Macedonia, the war office announced. The statement says the allied troops are advancing on the whole front of 150 kilometers between Monastir and Lake Doiran, with the enemy in precipitate retreat.

WAR IN OTHER SECTORS.—Disaster has overtaken the Teuton army over all fields. In eastern Siberia the Japanese have captured Biagovestchensk, capital of the province of Amur, and also the town of Alexievsk. Two thousand Teuton-German troops surrendered. In Palestine, from north of Jerusalem to the Sea of Galilee, the territory lying between the River Jordan and the Mediterranean sea, the Ottoman forces have been virtually annihilated. At least 25,000 of the Sultan's soldiers were in British hands. In France, both Gen. Debeney, with the French army, and Gen. Haig, with the British, won highly essential ground in their fight for the capture of St. Quentin and the turning of the German line at Laon. The French reached the river between Vendeuil and Traves. American troops raided the enemy lines in the neighborhood of Haumont village.

WASHINGTON.—The house, by a rising vote of 171 to 34, concurred in the nation-wide wartime prohibition law, which would prohibit the sale of liquor for the agricultural extension bill recently passed by the senate. Only President Wilson's veto can now prevent the entire country from going "bone dry" on July 1, 1919.

Not when the stars are flames upon the sky
And the tall hills march down the valley's rim,
Do I remember how your words went by Like dark men riding where the trails were dim.
Riding across a world where great winds blew
And now hurried the paces, and the cold
Turned breath to mist and the dark riders drew Up to the peak, into the dawn's bright gold.
But when I walk down some familiar street,
Flowered with windows, running east and straight,
Your words go by like dark and hunted men;
And drinking back where the tall buildings meet,
I think of grief's great cañons, peaks of hate,
And the good sun where they came out again.

We did think for a while we could smell it clearly, and we were dumfounded at the advance of the radio, but we discovered that what we were smelling was old Bill Beard smoking Turkish cigarettes down the hall.

ROBE ABOUT THE ENFIELD. Urbank, Ill., Sept. 18.—The article by W. H. B. relative to the Enfield rifle is somewhat misleading. He states that the British used the Enfield rifle, but does not explain that they ceased to use this particular Enfield prior to our entry into the war. Therefore 1918 did not find "several industrial plants making the Enfield in quantity" and "tooled to turn it out in excess of the British needs." They were prepared to turn them out to meet our needs, as they had previously made them for the British until the British were able to equip their forces with the new Enfield, which was far superior to the old one and which is a better rifle for all around hard service than our own U. S. government rifle, M-1903, commonly known as the Springfield. Nineteen hundred eighteen found the entire British infantry, including their colonial troops, equipped with the new Enfield. Our government was forced to adopt an arm discarded by the British. The entire National Guard and regular army, numbering about 500,000, as well as the United States navy, were equipped entirely with the Springfield in 1917, while the National Army, the conscripts (no offense intended) were still playing with broomsticks, waiting for the Enfield to be turned out. The Enfield may be accounted for in that these rifles had to be chambered for the U. S. ball cartridge, M-1906. W. H. B. gives the erroneous impression that not a single Springfield was delivered in 1917. Troops that were brigaded with the allied armies were temporarily equipped with the rifle of the army with which they were brigaded in order to simplify the question of ammunition supply. Thus the 23d division was equipped with the new Enfield while fighting with the British. The regiment of the National Army that served with the Italians in Italy used the Italian rifle. These that were brigaded with the French used the Lebel rifle. That regiment of the 85th (Michigan National Army) division which was sent to Archangel against the Russians was issued the Russian rifle, the Russian on hand at Aldershot, England, with a view to their using the supply of Russian ammunition supposed to be on hand in Archangel. (I understand that this supposed supply was not available when our troops disembarked and that Russian ammunition had to be shipped from England. This point is interesting if true, but I cannot vouch for the truth of it.)

Chicago, Sept. 12.—"Crime and disobedience of law cannot be permitted to break down the constitution and laws of the United States," said I, quoting Mr. Hoover, as I drove along a country road the other afternoon, and watched that my meter registered an even thirty-five miles an hour. Suddenly I was passed by a blue patrol wagon marked "United States Marshal," traveling at least forty-five miles an hour and cutting in and out of traffic with considerable abandonment.

I suppose it was all right, because the federal courts do not allow government employees to be prosecuted, but it would be plainer to common people if some one would explain which laws are to be obeyed and by whom. MOROZOFF.

THE OLD MILL. Chicago, Sept. 17.—Referring to Mr. E. Bass' letter in The Tribune relative to the old mill at the intersection of Grand avenue and the Cook-Du Page county line, I would like to say that I have visited this mill and found it most interesting.

Was the mill now stands in a cemetery it was erected by a man by the name of Ehlers, a German, and he owned the land and farmed it. Later he had a tenant who was from Holland, and these two men erected this mill where stood the ground for the early settlers. There are no mills in the mill.

The only well known Italian I know is Rocco, and he is neither a jack nor a queen.

THE BOND ISSUE. Chicago, Sept. 18.—Your criticism of Mr. Faherty was timely and just. I think you might have gone further and said at least half of the improvement he is so anxious to make could be postponed for 10 years. It was about the biggest waste of money of all the so-called improvements.

There are some things that need to be done badly, in which the $100,000,000 could be spent to much better advantage. Take South Park, south of the street. It is one of the most congested streets in the city and could be very cheaply widened.

STYLE—

It's the day of the Young Modern

They have their own ideas—these very modern young people. And a truly marvelous sense of what becomes them. Mothers no longer have to worry about their wanting things that are too old. They know themselves that slim, young figures are loveliest in simple, slender lines; they know, too, what types of clothes are best suited to their activities. They know, moreover, how to combine youthfulness with just enough sophistication to achieve an irresistible charm.

The great designers, recognizing this, are taking those features of dress which youth has already endorsed and are translating them into their own creations. That is why clothes for young moderns are so especially lovely nowadays—particularly this Fall. They are so debonair, so gay, so charmingly young!

All of the misses' sections, including the junior and petite miss section, are on the sixth floor. There are inexpensive school and sports dresses and enchanting Paris models—all sizes, all types, all prices. The choosing of Fall clothes—a single frock or coat, or an entire wardrobe—becomes here a most delightful affair. The models and accessories pictured on this page were selected by the Fashion Bureau.

Evidence that the great designers create some of their smartest models for young moderns . . . is this charming evening gown by Molyneux, of a very lovely blonde satin, intricately simple, with bouffant fullness at the sides. It was recently imported for Fashion Bureau.

The Sports Frock

More evidence is the chic cardigan by London Trades, featuring so many of the new sporting details . . . tweed with jersey blouse, double-breasted coat, large box plaits in the skirt, surmounted by a very original scarf, cut and worn in a very original fashion. Also imported for Fashion Bureau.

Accessories

And still more evidence in these smart accessories . . . the purse of quilted antelope, Jadra perfume, an evening bag of pearls, and the evening slipper of white moire and piped in silver. The lower group shows the intricate scarf belonging to the London Trades cardigan, a charming version of the off-the-forehead hat, the popular envelope bag of antelope, and an extremely well cut and versatile pump which may be had in antelope, gun calf, patent or satin. ## WENCHMAN TURNS ON DAN JACKSON, BOSS OF 2D WARD

Charges District Throttled
by Political Ring.

Harry D. Lewis, state central committeeman from the First congressional district, declared yesterday that the man who for years has been his political boss—Dan Jackson, overlord of the Second ward, overthrew the election disturbance in the near death throes.

Lewis, who says that he has been mistreated after twenty years of loyalty to Jackson and to his father before him, wrote a statement urging that the colored section of the south side overthrow its present bosses.

Charges Black Belt Throttled.
"Powerful interests," he said, "have already strangled the financial life of the black belt, kept men and women out of work, caused the lapse of independence protection, forced people to give up their furniture, and caused the complete loss of many homes."

"Through their merciless methods of syndicate privileges they brought more than $1,000,000 into the hands of a half dozen men who were the puppets of the colored boss of the Second ward, he being vested through the state's attorney's office with more power than the police department."

Urges Election of Swanson.
"The present bosses of the Second ward have turned against the people who placed them in power. Immediately after the (mayoralty) election they used the arm of the law to wreck and ruin the very people who did everything to make their positions possible. Those who enjoyed privileges before learned that to belong to the privileged few would cost from $300 to $400 per week."

"The only hope the colored people have to rid themselves of these evils is to come out 100 per cent and vote for Judge Swanson, the Republican candidate for state's attorney."

CALLS REUNION OF 87,000 VETS IN LOS ANGELES

Summerall Sets Oct. 18
for First Division Rally.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Maj. Gen. Charles F. Summerall, chief of staff of the army and president of the Society of the First Division, A. E. F., has issued a call to 87,000 veterans of the world war urging them to attend the society's annual reunion this year at Los Angeles, Cal., from Oct. 18 to 21. A total of 28,000 personal letters have been sent out by Gen. Summerall. All those receiving the invitations are urged to spread the word to division comrades.

"Los Angeles has invited the men of the First division to hold its reunion in California," Gen. Summerall said in his letter. "We are to assemble there to renew the ties bound on the field of battle. Veterans of the greatest of wars, we hold a peculiar pride and affection for the First division, to which it was our good fortune to belong."

Greater Measure of Service.
"While we have greatly honored the achievements of our comrades of other commands, we feel that the greater opportunities came to us and that a proportionately greater measure of service was ours. Our members are dispersed over the entire country, reflecting the truly national character of the men who filled our ranks."

"We will miss the many thousands who cannot come, and above all the sick and wounded, to whom our hearts go out in sympathy and loyalty. To our dead we render homage. They were the price of our victories, and their bodies which rest overseas and in the homeland are shrines of everlasting honor and inspiration."

Three Times Its Strength.
War department officials explained that the First division's claim to 87,000 veterans is due to the fact that it was the first to land in France and the first of the combat divisions to engage the enemy.

Its casualties required a replacement of more than three times the strength of the division when it was first mobilized with Gen. Pershing as its commander on the Texas border in May and June, 1917. Gen. Pershing selected its units from the regular army regiments.

The initial and final roster showed men in the ranks from every state in the Union and our insular possessions. Men from Michigan, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois composed the 85th division of the national army, and sent 2,100 of its man power to replace casualties of the First division at Soissons.

The 3rd division, which was made up of National Guard troops of Michigan and Wisconsin, arrived in France Feb. 8, 1918, and for a short period sent replacements to the First division. On April 10, 1918, it again became a combat division.

All That Glitters

Is Gold—in the Original Evening Gown from Molyneux, of Which This Model Is a Replica

EVEN the blase among smart women in Paris were startled by the Beauty of the Gown of Spun-Gold presented by Molyneux this Fall. The brilliance of the sun glistens in the fabric—and Molyneux, wise designer, had just enough woven to fashion a few such gowns. This replica is in a flowered metallic cloth, shining with the splendor of gold. The sketch—or copies to order—for $225 in the Women's Costumes.

WRIGLEY TO HEAD VOLUNTEER DRIVE FOR HOOVER HERE

J. S. Miller, a Republican,
Comes Out for Smith.

BY PARKE BROWN.
With only six Sundays left before the election, the makers of political news began yesterday to take advantage of the Sabbath day full and use it for the publication of announcements they considered important.

From western Republican headquarters came a statement that William Wrigley Jr. has accepted appointment as chairman of a Hoover-Curtis volunteer committee for Chicago and Cook county. This move is considered in political headquarters as an effort to establish a sort of aloofness from the local Republican tangle resulting from the primary and subsequent events.
From Democratic state headquarters came a copy of a letter from John S.
Miller, a well known and wealthy Chicago attorney, and a lifelong Republican, telling analytically why he prefers Gov. Alfred E. Smith to Herbert Hoover.

MacChesney Tells of Plan.
The announcement concerning Mr.
Wrigley came from Nathan William MacChesney, director of the organization bureau at the western headquarters. He is said to have worked out the arrangement in consultation with State Treasurer Garrett Kinney of Peoria, who is to head a state volunteer committee for Hoover.

Mr. MacChesney is considered aligned with the Deaneen forces locally, and his action is regarded as in harmony with their ideas of how the campaign should be handled in Chicago.
Since the Hoover people agreed to give equal financial aid to the Deaneen and to the Thompson-Crowe leaders in each ward, the dangers of ward rivalry are believed to have been increased, and the new committee plan is intended to remove the presidential contest
a little further from the battle lines.
Shortly before the Kansas City convention, to which he had been elected as a "draft Coolidge" delegate, Mr.
Wrigley said that although he was bound to vote for Coolidge if his name were presented, he was for Hoover.
He also is said to have contributed to the Hoover campaign fund.

Miller Explains Vote for AL
In his letter to Thomas F. Donovan, an Democratic national committeeman,

Attorney Miller emphasized both the prohibition and religious issues.
"Shall the ballot of the bigot and fanatic control us?" he asked. "Shall we be told more and more from Washington how to think and how to feel?
Shall the present theory of prohibition be approved at the polls?"
"I will vote for Gov. Smith in part because of his courageous and intelligent stand on the question of probi-bition. Hoover stands for prohibition in its present form except for modification in the method of its enforcement. Smith stands for temperance but advocates a change in the present theory of prohibition—not merely in the method of its enforcement."

After quoting from the utterances of both candidates on this subject,
Attorney Miller's letter continued:
"Whatever he said regarding specific recommendations of change, Smith offers constructive and courageous leadership. He throws down the glove of challenge. His opponent promises no leadership but timidly avoids a definite stand and offers only more bu-reaucratie investigation to a country weary of such.

"But even more important than the prohibition issue is that of intolerance.
Shall we be ruled by a minority of fanatics? All the bigots of the republic marveled against Gov. Smith because it not only a duty but a privilege for any open hearted man to vote for him.
"I believe Gov. Smith is better fitted to lead men than Mr. Hoover. Mr.
Hoover's public service has shown him to be a theorist. The chief function of a President is to lead men over whom he has no authority. Gov.
Smith has displayed this quality in a very high degree."

Blow Two Safes in Store; Get $5,000 Loot
Three crackmen knocked the lock off a side door in the Struve department store at 3155 Lincoln avenue early yesterday, overpowered the watchman, John D. Christman, blew open two safes, and escaped with more than $5,000.

OVERHEATED HOMES and COMMON COLDS ROB the FAMILY PAY ENVELOPE

54% of all absences from work are due to colds and similar illnesses, according to U. S. Public Health Survey

The ten-year sickness record of a great industrial concern, recently published by the U. S. Public Health Service, shows the vast money loss to workers due to colds and similar diseases such as bronchitis, influenza, gripe and pneumonia.

Office people and mechanics, indoor and outdoor employees — thousands of workers of all classes are included. And about half of their lost time is chargeable to this one source! It is no wonder that public health officials are warring on the common cold and condemning one of its chief causes — overheated homes.

Automatic Heat Control Prevents Overheating

Medical authorities are now convinced that this problem of temperature control is a vital factor in stamping out colds. You cannot afford to pass over their warning — and you cannot successfully avoid the danger unless you have an automatic temperature regulator on your home heating plant. It is impossible to avoid overheating with old-fashioned hand control.

Ask any of the 3,000,000 people who enjoy Minneapolis-Honeywell protection, and you will discover many other benefits. You will find them enthusiastic over clock control, which automatically warms up the house in the early morning hours. Many will tell you they no longer dread the heating season since this ingenious equipment took over the job of fire-tending and provided the true comfort of steady, even heat. Fuel saving — less frequent firing with coal or coke — lowered fire hazard — all these are added advantages. Our "10-point Demonstration" gives you the complete story. It will be presented in your own living room, any day or evening. Demonstrating outfit requires no connection with your heating plant.

SMALL-MAYOR VOTE DEAL SEEN IN 'FISH' ISSUE

Citizens' Assn. Urges Defeat of Bonds.

In a bulletin of the Citizens' Association of Chicago, issued yesterday, the 20 million dollar state bond issue for fishing and hunting grounds which goes to a referendum on Nov. 6 was branded as an offshoot of the Small-Thompson alliance, which was shattered in the April primary.

This was given as a reason for voting against the proposal, a reason in addition to the basic arguments that the plan is indefinite and impractical, that the assertions that the whole cost is to be borne by license fees is false, and that a large increase in direct taxation will result.

Trace Origin of Plan.
"It is not irrelevant to call attention to the unfavorable origin of the proposal," read the bulletin, signed by Leslie F. Gates, vice president, and Shelby M. Singleton, secretary. "There is reason to believe it was devised by men close to Mayor Thompson and Gov. Small as a scheme for getting the votes of Illinois sportsmen and as a means of obtaining more money for the state administration to spend."

"Accordingly, the expenditure of this great sum is not elaborately guarded, being placed entirely in the hands of the director of conservation, subject only to the approval of the governor."

"The bill was introduced by Rep. Thomas Curran of Chicago, who held the important chairmanship of the house committee on appropriations by the favor of Gov. Small and long had been known as an unfailing follower of Mayor Thompson.

Backed by Thompson.

"Most conspicuous among the backers of the bill were Mayor Thompson and the Fish Fans club organized by close friends of Mayor Thompson for his political benefit. So active was this club in lobbying for the bill that the plan often was designated by legislators as the 'Fish Fans' bond issue."

"In considering it the voters may well remember that it originated with the same political leadership that invented 'America First' as a slogan for the last mayoralty campaign and sought to induce forgetfulness of the scandals of two Thompson administrations by shouting that 'King George's snoot' was being inserted into Chicago school affairs."

"It should not be forgotten that Chicago office holders who particularly sponsored this ill considered bond issue have been held legally liable for the unlawful transfer of more than $1,700,000 of city funds to the pockets of

'real estate experts'; that they or their appointees were responsible for the payment of great sums by the city department of gas and electricity for materials never delivered."

Clies More City Graft.

"It should not be forgotten that they or their appointees were responsible for graft in the former management of the Chicago board of education; for the swindling of policemen's widows and orphans, and for so perverting the management of the Chicago police department as to give color to the charge that it was operated in a measure for the benefit of gangsters, rather than for the protection of the public."

"In view of the overwhelming defeat in April of city bond issues aggregating $78,000,000 requested by Mayor Thompson, it is not strange that a strenuous effort is now being made to get reputable sportsmen's organizations throughout the state to help put over this crude bond plan, which those organizations had little or no part in framing."

SHOT TRYING TO QUIET PATRON IN WEST SIDE CAFE

Clarence Brennan, 27 years old, 44 North Sacramento boulevard, was shot and critically wounded early yesterday when he attempted to pacify a patron in the Turf restaurant, 2941 West Madison street.

Brennan was removed to the county hospital. Martin (Babe) Mullaney, said to have carried the wounded man to a taxicab before fleeing, was named by witnesses as the aggressor and was sought by the police.

According to Miss Salina McKenty, proprietor of the restaurant, Mullaney tossed a stein of beer into another patron's face. When her brother, Henry McKenty, tried to eject him, Mullaney waved a pistol. Brennan rose from his table and was shot as he laid his hand on Mullaney's shoulder.

Declared the Only One Known
That Actually Kills Pain

DRUGGISTS GUARANTEE IT
It is now a positive fact that startling results follow the use of Nuroto for rheumatic pain, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago, and neuralgia. And in order that the vast number of sufferers who have tried everything with no success can test Nuroto, you can try a package and if it doesn't prove the most wonderful success in almost instantly stopping the most intense pain, take the package back to the drug store and get your money. Helpless, bedridden, pain-racked, sleepless people from torturing pain are the ones who particularly should try this wonderful Nuroto on this positive guarantee. Get it at all—

Mr. Grosguth's Phone Call Brought a Host of Apartment Seekers to His Door

WHEN Mr. Grosguth was left with a vacant apartment he was anxious to rent it again quickly. He phoned his ad to a Tribune Adtaker—and next morning a stream of apartment seekers appeared at his door. On the second day he had a lease, and his worry was at an end.

Renting with Tribune Want Ads is that easy. One phone call and you have prospects aplenty—for most of the apartment prospects in Chicago read Tribune Want Ads first. The Tribune's huge circulation—59 per cent greater than that of the second Chicago want ad medium—reaches nearly every one of them. And they consult the Tribune Want Ad Section first because they know that in it they can find practically the entire list of vacancies in Chicago—as proved by the fact that in 1927 the Tribune printed 88 per cent more "To Rent" advertising than was published by all other Chicago papers COMBINED! Phone your ad today to—

"I had a five room apartment that had been suddenly vacated. I was anxious to rent it again as quickly as possible. A Tribune Want Ad brought many replies and the day after my ad appeared the lease was signed and my anxiety was at an end."

Who wants shucks and all?

CORN comes on cobs—and in shucks.

But no one cares for corn au naturel.

The sweet, juicy kernels are what we are all after.

Same way with markets. It's the net, and not the gross, that's really worth while.

Particularly in the New York market . . . the biggest market in the world . . . the one with the most gross, the most net, the most worthwhile, the most worthless.

One newspaper has been selected by more than 300,000 families. Three hundred thousand families of sane, sensible, money-making, money-saving, English-speaking citizens who read it every day.

We do not claim that the Herald Tribune reaches every single family in New York which is worth reaching. But we know this—that nearly every single one of the families the Herald Tribune does reach is worth reaching.

Worth it because all these families have buying power and use it. Worth it because these families are the kind dealers buy for—the kind masses pattern after.

Think of this:

In the highest-type residential districts of New York City, such as Park Avenue, Riverside Drive, and the Upper West Side, where the average yearly buying power is $6200, 24% of the families read the Herald Tribune.

Whereas in another district of opposite character, where rents are very low, and the average buying power is but $1599 a year, only 1% of the families read the Herald Tribune.

Or take one of New York's wealthy suburban districts, Westchester County. The average family buying power is just over $6000 a year. Twenty-two per cent of these families read the Herald Tribune.

Such distribution is typical of the Herald Tribune's entire circulation—over 300,000 weekdays and 400,000 Sundays—heaviest concentration in the better class districts, lightest in the poorer districts.

A manufacturer of oil burners ran a full page in the Herald Tribune. He reported 2,100 inquiries.

That's the kind of response to advertising that has jumped the Herald Tribune, in three years, from 18th to 3rd place in national advertising among all American newspapers.

Write us for a copy of the Herald Tribune book, "A City Without Slums", containing facts about the New York market of interest to all Advertisers.

MARKS BROS.

THE DESPAIR OF IMITATORS

Marks Brothers' position as leaders in fine entertainment has been secured through their initiative in bringing to Chicago Broadway's greatest stars and Hollywood's finest "sound" and talking pictures.

Their shows are built in Chicago for Chicagoans with picked talent. The secret of their success is that they stepped into the breach at a time when this city had tired of Eastern "Syndicated" shows and brought the public superior talent. Two years ahead with talking pictures and years ahead in stagecraft, their position is secured by the public's appreciation of finer entertainment. They are the despair of imitators.

The Granada and Marbro are the two largest and most beautiful theaters in Chicago. This week they are presenting two noteworthy stars, Jimmy Savo, first brought to Chicago for this appearance, and Julian Eltinge.
Victor McLaglen's first "sound" picture is at both theaters.

WHEN YOU SEE THESE SHOWS YOU WILL REALIZE THAT THE OLD STANDARDS ARE GONE AND THAT A GLORIOUS NEW ERA OF ENTERTAINMENT HAS DAWNED.

Virginia Wallace Plans to Wed Thanksgiving Day, It Is Announced

BY THALIA

Miss Wallace's plans to wed on Thanksgiving day, it was announced today, when she was expected to appear at the annual meeting of the Virginia Wallace Club. The wedding will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, 4837 Kenwood road, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Wallace was one of the last season's debutantes. She and Miss Ash, daughter of Fayetteville, N. C., had a joint debut reception in early September at the Wallace residence. She was active in the debutante affairs of the winter, and was entertained at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Wallace, at the Wallace residence. And she was also expected to appear at the annual meeting of the Virginia Wallace Club, which was held at the Wallace residence, 4837 Kenwood road, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Disciples of Christ Will Hold Special Meetings This Week

The Disciples of Christ have arranged a series of special meetings for this week. This morning after the union ministers' meeting pastors of the Christian churches will hold a luncheon conference on "Evangelism" at the Hotel La Salle, at which the Rev. H. H. Peters of Bloomington, Ill., of the Illinois Christian Missionary society will be the chief guest.

Tuesday evening at the new Irving Park Christian church, Cullum and Kedvale avenues, the Chicago Christian Missionary society will hold its annual meeting, and the Rev. F. E. Davidson, pastor of Austin boulevard church, and the Rev. Samuel C. Kinch of the Congregational City Missionary and Extension society, will speak.

Wednesday evening the subject of the midweek services at the churches will be "The Disciples of Christ in Chicago." Thursday the 13th quarterly convention of the Chicago Union of Women's Missionary Societies will be held in the Morgan Park Christian church, 10223 Prospect avenue, at which the Rev. W. R. Warren, editor of the World Call, will be the speaker.

Urges Greater Harmony Among Episcopalians and the Methodists

Addressing a crowd of several hundred yesterday at the laying of the cornerstone of the first unit of the Western Theological seminary, Bishop Sheldon M. Griswold, who officiated, expressed the hope that the services would bring about a greater unity between the Episcopal and the Methodist churches. His sentiment later was echoed by President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university.

Fashion Favors the Smart Flare

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—We don't flare up nowadays. We flare down. This supreme point being established, one next inquires into the means by which that same flare is produced. Practically, these are inexhaustible, and the above model represents only one of a thousand ingenious systems.

Like so many of the smart flare effects of today, this one gets going on the corse rather than on the skirt. At the side of the bodice begin four bindings which are expanded gradually until they achieve at the hem line the required amplitude.

Of course, the asymmetric idea is once more evolved by this new trick. The same one sided development is, too, evinced by a scarf collar functioning only at the right. Together the two give distinction to a one piece frock that is made to simulate the two piece effect.

Like so many of the smart flare costumes of the winter, this one is developed in garnet and in one of the novel wools. The particular fabric is an evolution of wool seersucker, an especially pliable one which lends itself to the manipulation of fullness at the side. Such variations of the wool crepe are legion, but in speaking of their popularity one must refer to the new importance of homespun in the mode. The frock of homespun has been turned out by many of the smart Plan from Small Library.

"I live in a small community not so far from Chicago where we have no library. The children and young people have had little reading matter of any kind and so last summer I started a library by collecting such books as I could get from my friends and neighbors, but we are sadly lacking in books for children up to 15 years of age. I will be glad to come for any you may be able to get us."

So many of the books your children enjoyed when they were younger will never be read again, I know, and they are taking up space in your library which could, no doubt, be better utilized. Won't you gather together a few of these for this new and struggling community library?

Both Cats 'n' Humans Will Purr When You Stroke 'Em Tactfully

BY DORIS BLAKE.

It's no sign of being popular to be able to make a cat purr. But if you can hypnotize humans into that contented, cat-like state, the world state you are what is known in common parlance as a knockout.

Up to a certain point the rules for raising a purr in either cat or human are the same. If they're comfortably ensconced in a rocker leave them alone. Don't try to readjust the cushion seat. Your intentions may be the best in the world, but neither cat nor human in their immediate and respective frames of mind will appreciate the kindness.

Then there is the obvious suggestion about not brushing the fur of either the wrong way.

In what they subtitle "a guide to the gift of gab," Doris Webster and Mary Alden Hopkins, in a recent issue of Liberty, add a few pointers to the art of making people like you, which is the same thing as making them purr in your soothing presence:

"1. Make it a rule to utter one pleasant remark every day."

"2. Offset every criticism by two admiring comments."

"3. Look for admirable qualities in people you dislike."

"4. When you are annoyed, say something pleasant."

"5. Introduce every necessary criticism of children or employees with preliminary commendation."

"6. Practice until you can speak without embarrassment of good looks, pretty clothes, and charming traits."

"7. Cultivate the habit of saying out loud the kind thoughts that come into your mind concerning other people, at the same time that you stop critical thoughts before they slide off your tongue."

In case practice of the above perfection might make you rile with the other anti-feline authors, the co-authors offer a milder recipe for teaching the tongue cordiality. Pleasant family greetings when you enter the breakfast room are advocated. Exchange a pleasant word with people you see and know on the street, in the train or in street cars. Conquer the temptations to pretend you do not see them.

TRIBUTE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Roast Beef Rib Soup.

It has been mentioned to the credit of a chef of repute that his excellent barley soups were the regular aftermath of his beef roasts, or of the bones from a roast of meat the ancient principles hold over for the modern.

Among my late experiments have been some in which I have tried to make agreeable dishes out of two ingredients, plus salt, perhaps, and have succeeded. But I rather relished myself with the following soup made out of nothing more than a roast beef rib stock, potatoes and salt.

There was really a third element, or some fat on those bones, which helped to make the experiment the success it was.

Two roasted short ribs, and one quart of water simmered together for nine hours, supplied the stock for the soup. The base was really about eight inches of rib bones with a little rare meat on them, which gave flavor.

And some fat—they had been from a fat creature. In the first place, these short ribs had been carefully roasted so that there were no burnt edges of meat or bone to float around in the water added to them, to be continually favoring it through the hours of cooking and be unightly in at the end, so that it would have to be strained.

The cooking had been so slow that finally there were three or four rather small cups of liquid left. For a cup and a half of it were prepared three rather soft potatoes—peeled, sliced, cooked soft and mashed, and then the stock which had not cooled was added to the potato with a little salt. The product was something that it would not take a hungry man to eat without complaint.

Perhaps the fact that the stock had not cooled had a bit to do with the flavor. The other half, when it had stood a day, was used with tomato, which offhand almost any one would say would make a better two-ingredient soup and, before a little butter and onion juice was added to the latter, it was not as agreeable as the potato soup.

Peacock Silhouette

"Nuit de Paris" is reminiscent of the frills and furbelows of picture frocks—it has all their winsome appeal, yet now there is that sparkling smartness which comes from the technique of artists of today.

In tulle, the peacock back has its most effective medium. The skirt fashioned in three deep loops and the back elongated is accented in a large crystal pin at the waist. In black, brown, blue, and honey beige. Reproduced—for misses. $85.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Autumn finds the formal hat leading a smart life—at bridges, tea, dances and early dinners—brims interest the chic woman both by individuality and paradoxically enough by absence. Versions of the turban, toque and draped themes in feathers, velvets, soileils. Hat sketched—by Le Monnier—in caracul velvet.

In the French Shop

Fifth Floor, North, State.

Furnishes the entree into the inner circle of smartness for many a slim pump this season.

There are bronze steel on pumps of brown suede or brown kid and natural steel on black suede, kid or patent. $16.50. Of cut steel, they decorate gore pumps or open pumps of varied leathers. $14.75.

Third Floor, South, State

Clothing each sophisticated line in dusky softness—tulle achieves the lines of the supple silhouette by interestingly placed panels, each composed of several thicknesses of tulle dotted in chenille.

The long slim bodice, flat-hip line and back-dipping hemline make one of the season's loveliest gowns in black. This reproduction for women. $115.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

For the woman short in stature. Slenderizing details are assembled with such skill that each frock presents its slenderness in smart accord with fashion.

The frock sketched shows how uneven fullness at the side may accent the slenderness of a skirt. Transparent velvet in rich black, brown, and blue. $39.50.

Fourth Floor, East

Submit gracefully to the recognized importance of velvet by embodying tailored lines in black velveteen and softening them by flower patterns in rich, deep tones. There is a wide border of black satin as trimming. Priced at $12.75.

WHEAT UPTURN DISTURBS LONG RULE OF SHORTS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

An unexpected upturn in the wheat market came on Friday, with a short continuation early Saturday, when prices at their best were up around 10c from the low level of the season. It was a big surprise to the trade because the impression has prevailed for a long time that nothing was likely to develop to disturb the shorts and at most an advance of a few cents seemed about all that the market would be capable of making.

Wheat prices have been on the down grade for months with little encouragement for buyers. Of late, however, lack of hedging pressure owing to the holding tendency of American farmers on a heavily sold market started large shorts to covering which naturally stampeded others, hence the unexpected upturn late in the week. The technical position has been somewhat changed, but the market in all is considered largely a short one.

Futures Seen at Work.

Wheat has been accumulated by eastern interests on breaks which created an impression in the trade that local influences were at work and would be until election. This, with the combination of other factors, was the main cause for the sharp advance. That eastern interests are willing to take profit on sharp upturns was seen by their liberal sales on the late bulge. At the best prices on Saturday morning wheat prices were the best since July 1st, with the trade looking for a bull leader, as many are tired of the bear.

Hedgers are watching for upturns to put out their lines and the trade has the impression that the northwestern cash handlers will not press their hedges on a weak market, but will await more upturns.

In the Canadian northwest farmers delivered 51,000,000 bu of wheat last week, setting a new record. The highest mark previously was 40,000,000 bu in October last year. So far they have sold 95,000,000 bu of new wheat and 2,000,000 bu of old wheat this season, or around 2 per cent of the total crop.

Increase in Supply Expected.

The trade expected an increase of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 bu in the visible supply in today's report. Last year it increased 5,551,000 bu.

At the close there were net gains of 44¢ for the week, with September, $1.14; October, $1.15; November, $1.16; December, $1.17; January, $1.18; February, $1.19; March, $1.20; April, $1.21; May, $1.22;
